BE SAFE
AND BE SEEN

What an illuminating idea for active dogs—action dogs need the right apparel for their pursuits. Here are some the most high-tech shells and outerwear to be seen in all the right places.

Lighten up and stand out

Glow-in-the-park with this outstanding Lighted Labcoat. Whether in rural or urban settings, your dog will have added visibility with contrasting colours and reflective trim. We know that reflective coats aren't anything new but this technological coat uses a compact battery-pack to illuminate bright blue flexible wires running along the sides. This keeps your pooch pal in sight—even in conditions where reflective materials can't be seen. Two standard AAA batteries power the light for more than 20 hours of use in the on mode and 50 hours in the flashing mode—batteries included!

You'll reach the heights with
Summit Backpack

Your pooch will be your little helper with this all-purpose pack. Made from tough, durable material, the backpack has many features that make this a must have for the great outdoors or just a trip to the shops. Easy access compartments mean that all the things you pack in the pockets will be on hand. Water-tight zippers will ensure even in wet weather, the contents will be safe and dry. Reflective trim keeps your doggie safe at night or in low visibility situations. A form-fitting chest harness means that this pack is anchored securely and will mean that the weight won't shift.
